

Looking for new challenges in 2008?

ANPRO has been experiencing significant success and growth. We are therefore looking for a number of new colleagues.

- Do you enjoy change?
- Do you like creating results through others?
- Do you like creating results together with others as part of a team?
- Are you interested in learning more?
- Do you think it's fun to develop and implement solutions?

We are looking for:

- An experienced senior consultant for operations in Denmark
- Experienced consultants, project managers or people with management experience in the fields of production, logistics and SCM
- Trainee consultants with a little or limited experience
- Coaches, consultants in the field of management development or people with a similar background

What we offer:

- Good rates of pay and terms of employment
- The opportunity to work full time or part time, as an employee or freelance
- Opportunities for education and training
- Work in a creative, challenging consultancy environment
- A project environment that can be hectic at times
- An international consultancy environment

If what we have to offer matches your expectations, please send your application and CV to applicant@anpro.dk

Who is ANPRO A/S? We are an international consultancy that focuses on the implementation of productivity solutions in companies, and through the years we have completed more than 350 different projects.

You can find out more about us on our website: www.anpro.dk